

WHO WE ARE

At Learn with IntraEdge, we redefine what a learning agency looks like. We design and develop next-level learning experiences while tackling the challenges that companies often face when it comes to training.

We engage learners by infusing every course we create with innovative, memorable and immersive content and modalities. Throughout the learning design process, we map learning objectives to the competencies that will improve learners' knowledge and performance.

With our diverse portfolio of projects, clients and expertise, we are ready to collaborate to create effective training on any subject.

One of the areas we specialize in is process improvement with a special focus on onboarding. Whenever there is a large recruiting effort, a merger, or a major change that impacts multiple teams and requires a large amount of new information to be communicated and adopted, effective onboarding programs are critical.
